"As Gardening has been the inclination of kings, and the choice of philosophers, so it has been the favorite of public and private men; a pleasure of the greatest, and the care of the meanest: and indeed an employment and profession for which no man is too high nor too low."

DIRECTIONS FOR TRYING SEEDS.

Prove seeds by sowing a few in a small pot or box of light loose earth, and placing it in a warm room, exposed to the sun : keep the earth moist, and if the seed is good, it will vegetate in a reasonable time, except peas and beans, which should be tried by sowing a few in the open ground.

The bug-holes frequently seen in peas, are not occasioned by age, but are the work of an insect, which deposits its eggs in the flower, and matures with the pea ; when it eats its way out at the side, leaving the eye of the pea uninjured ; this of course does not destroy its vegetating power.

If the seeds do not grow after being tried as above, they may be returned, when they will be replaced with other seeds, or the money refunded.

JAMES M. THORBURN & Co.

PREFACE.

In arranging the materials for this Catalogue, the subscribers have thought it most convenient for reference to keep the Vegetables together, and to place the directions for their cultivation immediately afterwards: and in the same manner with the Flower and the Green-house department.

The collection of bulbous flowers has been greatly enriched by many new and fine varieties from Holland; and among the Dahlias (of which a catalogue is published separate,) will be found the latest and most splendid kinds originated in England; whose gardeners, it is well known, are celebrated for their skill in floriculture. The additions to their Camellias and Geraniums, are of the most rare and magnificent description. They have procured many new and beautiful Annuals and Biennials; and their collection of Kitchen Garden Seeds contains every useful kind of Vegetables cultivated either in private gardens, or for the market.

The whole of which they take this opportunity of recommending to their friends and the public, with the assurance that they may always rely on being served with the best and most genuine articles.

The following sensible observations are so well expressed on the beneficial effects of flower culture, that they take great pleasure in giving them a place here.

"The interest which flowers have excited in the breast of man, from the earliest ages to the present day, have never been confined to any particular class of society, or quarter of the globe. Nature seems to have distributed them over the whole world, to serve as a medicine to the mind, to give cheerfulness to the earth, and to furnish agreeable sensations to its inhabitants.

"The savage of the forest, in the joy of his heart, binds his brow with the native flowers of the woods, whilst taste for their cultivation increases in every country, in proportion as the blessings of civilization extend.

"From the humblest cottage enclosure, to the most extensive park and grounds, nothing more conspicuously bespeaks the good taste of the possessor than a well cultivated flower garden; and it may very generally be remarked, that when we behold an humble tenement surrounded with ornamental plants, the possessor is a man of correct habits, and possesses domestic comforts; whilst on the contrary a neglected, weed grown garden, or its total absence, marks the indolence and unhappy state of those who have been thus neglectful of Flora's favors.

"Of all the luxurious indulgences, that of flowers is the most innocent. It is productive not only of rational gratifications, but of many advantages of permanent character. Love for a garden has a powerful influence in attracting men to their homes; and, on this account, every encouragement given to increase a taste for ornamental gardening, is additional security for domestic comfort and happiness. It is likewise a recreation which conduces materially to health, promotes civilization, and softens the manners and tempers of men.

"It creates a love for the study of nature, which leads to a contemplation of the mysterious wonders that are displayed in the vegetable world around us, and which cannot be investigated without inclining the mind towards a just estimate of religion, and a knowledge of the narrow limits of our intelligence, when compared with the incomprehensible power of the Creator.

"Flowers are of all embellishments, the most beautiful; and of all created beings, man alone seems capable of deriving any enjoyment from them. The love for them commences with infancy, remains the delight of youth, increases with our years, and becomes the quiet amusement of our declining days. The infant can no sooner walk, than its first employment is to plant a flower in the earth, removing it ten times an hour to wherever the sun seems to shine most favourable. The schoolboy, in the care of his little plot of ground, is relieved of his studies, and loses the anxious thought of the home he has left. In manhood our attention is generally demanded by more active duties, or more imperious, and perhaps less innocent occupations; but as age obliges us to retire from public life, the love of flowers and the delight of a garden, return to soothe the latter period of our life.

"To most persons, gardening affords delight as an easy and agreeable occupation; and the flowers they so fondly rear, are cherished from the gratification they afford to the organs of sight and sense; but to the close observer of nature, and the botanist, beauties are unfolded and wonders displayed, that cannot be detected by the careless attention bestowed upon them by the multitude.

"In their growth, from the first tender shoots which rise from the earth, through all the changes which they undergo, to the period of their utmost perfection, he beholds the wonderful works of creative power; he views the bud as it swells, and looks into the expanded blossom, delights in its rich tints, and fragrant smell, but above all, he feels a charm in contemplating movements and regulations, before which all the combined ingenuity of man dwindles into nothingness."

Early Tulips.—Several varieties by name. These are very early, showing a mass of bloom on the first opening of spring, and combine every tint and edging, from crimson to pink, and from yellow to bright orange. $2 per dozen.

Bizarre Tulips.—These have yellow grounds striped or shaded with crimson, deepening to red and dark brown. Several varieties by name. $3 per dozen.

Bybloem Tulips.—These grow very stately, and combine on a clear white ground the most distinct and beautiful dark purple and violet stripes. Varieties by name. $3 per dozen.

Rosy Bybloems [or Rosy on White]—Nothing can surpass the beauty of these favorite tulips. In Holland they command the most exorbitant prices, by reason of the erect growth of the stem and great size of the cup. They have clear white grounds distinctly shaded and striped with scarlet, crimson, vermilion and rose pink. Varieties by name. $3 to $5 per dozen.

Double Tulips.—Many of these have full double flowers, resembling a Pæonia, and are very early and shewy. The different varieties, when planted in a separate bed [and may be all taken up by the first of June, and the bed appropriated to summer flowers,] add greatly to the appearance of the flower garden by the end of April, and are readily increased by offsets. Among many fine sorts annually imported, the following are worthy a place in the smallest garden:—Due Van Tol, La Belle Alliance, Extremite d'Or, Yellow Rose, [sweet scent] La Candeur, Rex Rubrorum, Marriage de ma Fille, Tournsol, Grandeur Formidable. $2 per dozen.

AMARYLLIS.

A splendid genus, requiring the hot or green-house to flower them in perfection. South of Virginia, however, the most of them will flower without any artificial heat, by merely potting them in the spring in fresh loam and sand. Also the splendid new Japan Lilies, which are unequalled for magnificence, no description can adequately set forth their splendid appearance. As many as thirty flowers have been produced on a single stem, and on its first introduction into England, some four years since, an eminent florist near London presented a pot of Lancifolium speciosum to the Queen with twin stems and a head of sixty flowers. They have been found so hardy as to stand out in England, with little or no protection, and south of Virginia they may be as easily grown as the common white lily. The original value of the bulbs when first brought to England, was £10, and to this day they are highly prized. The varieties cultivated in this country, and which follow are the finest known, viz :

The Pæonia whiteleji, humei, and fragrans, are very fine; the flowers are large, and as double as a cabbage rose. It often happens that twelve or fifteen flowers open at once, and present a truly beautiful spectacle. They are nearly hardy, and require no other protection than an armful of straw or salt hay thrown on the ground in December, and removed again about the middle of March. The Pæonia banksia is a shrubby variety, generally attaining the height of three or four feet. As they show the flower buds by the end of March they are very apt to be injured by the frosts of April. It is well therefore to cover this plant with an empty cask, having a pane of glass in the top. With this little precaution, you will never fail to have a fine bloom about the middle of May. The same remarks apply to the Pæonia papaveracea.

ROSES.

The following choice Roses comprise the finest sorts cultivated in France being selected from the best collections in that famous rose growing country, and are such sorts as have been bloomed by ourselves, and are recommended with confidence.

Abbreviations used in the catalogue and reference.

- Hyb. ch.* HYBRID CHINA. A description of Roses between the Provence or Garden Rose and the China monthly, the foliage much resembles the China rose, the flowers are very large and in greater masses than the ordinary China, in pruning they should be well thinned out, and the shoots left for flowering shortened but little.
- Dam.* DAMASK. The old fashioned Garden Rose of the Dutch and English collections, very fragrant and are readily distinguished by their rough spurious shoots and coriaceous leaves.
- Dam. Perp.* DAMASK PERPETUAL, A cross from the Damask, and from which have sprung many varieties of that truly valuable class of Autumnal Roses termed Hybrid Perpetual, both the the Damask and Damask Perpetual are perfectly hardy, they should be pruned moderately close, early in spring.
- Hyb Perp.* HYBRID PERPETUAL These are very beautiful roses and demand more attention than any other variety, they cannot be too highly recommended to Amateurs residing near large cities, they are fine for forcing and very sweet, they thrive best in rich soil with close pruning in spring, north of Virginia it is advisable to protect them with straw the first winter till they are tried and are well rooted in the ground, those that are worked, Standards, (or Tree Rose) should be carefully attended to during the growing season, and as the suckers from the stock throw up, cut them off under ground with a knife or sharp hoe, as if allowed to grow and extend, they will draw all the nourishment from the budded top and eventually destroy it, the hybrid perpetual are worthy every care, as they are the most beautiful of all roses, flowering at intervals all summer and superbly in spring and autumn, and highly scented.
- Bourb.* BOURBON This description contains some of the most beautiful Roses of Autumn: the Autumn is their peculiar season several of them rarely blooming in summer the Bourbons are free and constant bloomers, with fine foliage bright colours and finely shaped flowers they are very hardy, and of free of free growth, the vigorous and robust habited are well adapted for climbing or pillar roses.
- Nois.* NOISSETTE. The Noisette are pleasing Roses, blooming mostly in large clusters throughout the summer and autumn, some of them scarcely cease blooming for months. They are all more or less Musk scented and perfectly hardy south of Maryland, and indeed require but very slight protection in the northern states. The vigorous growers are well adapted for trellis pillars or climbing rosee, blooming beautifully very late in the year, the Princess de Nassau, is a particular beautiful and highly scented musk variety, and has been known to stand out on Long Island for ten successive winters without any protection whatever, and blooming in profusion from June till November.

Ben. BENGAL or CHINESE ROSES. These roses are well adapted for growing in pots, or for planting in Beds or Lawns or in any situation where an abundance and constant succession of flower is desirable, compared with other roses they are of small growth, many of them are rich crimson and very globular, some are highly fragrant and all are hardy.

Tea. TEA SCENTED CHINESE MONTHLY. The Tea Roses are celebrated for their extreme delicacy of colouring and delicious fragrance, they are rather tender and require protection from frost during winter, for forcing and for pot culture, when grown under glass the tea roses are without equal. Devoniensis, Belle Allemande, Eliza Sauvage, Comte de Paris, Smithii, Triumph de Luxembourg, and Lamarque are particularly fine.

Moss. Moss Roses. An unsurpassed class, quite hardy requiring high cultivation, very rich soil and close pruning.
